Born Out of Necessity

In 2007, Dr. Jason Wersland, founder of Theragun®, got into a traumatic motorcycle accident. The accident left him in debilitating muscle and nerve pain, and nothing he tried seemed to help.

He tried treating his injuries with vibration therapy, and when that didn't work, he began his search for a handheld device that provided the deep muscle relief he needed. Dr. Jason was looking for an effective natural solution, and he couldn't find one that he could use on himself in the sea of technological devices at his chiropractic office. He didn't know it at the time, but he was about to create the world's first version of what was to become the Theragun Percussive Therapy device.
